I drive truck for a living, hauling fuel. Prior to XM radio getting the traffice and weather, for at least one of the areas that I drive, I never had accurate up to the minute traffic reports. Since XM started delivering this service to me, I have avoided MANY congested areas that I otherwise would have blundered into unaware of the situation.

Since I haul fuel for a living, this is a double benefit for me. Not only is the information getting me to my destination with less trouble, I can feel a little safer than I otherwise would. I am concerned that the products that I carry might start to be the target of individuals or groups that might have something on their mind other than the benefit of the United States in mind. PLEASE keep this in mind when you are starting to be hammered by the big bucks of lobbyists.
